DETAILED ACTION

Application Status

1. Claims 1-10 are pending.

Requirement for an Election of Species

2. Claims 1-10 are drawn to the same invention: a process for the preparation of L-amino acids wherein the yjgF ORF is attenuated. However, this application contains claims directed to the following 67 patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: each of the processes listed in claims 9 and 10 in which the microorganism used additionally has enhancement or attenuation of a gene that is distinct from yjgF.

The species of instant processes are patentably distinct, each from the other, because the microorganisms used in the processes have different structures. The searches required for the species are not co-extensive because inspection of the prior art for each species is different. It is, therefore, burdensome to search all of the claimed species together.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species from the 67 disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-8 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 1652

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
